

Project | A41 Ploughley Road, Bicester

Client | Galliford Try

Contract value | £398,000.00

Sector | Highways

Client Brief

Junction improvements for Oxfordshire County Council to improve journey times and journey experience through a busy part of their network.

Our part:

- Contracted by Galliford Try, MacDonald Surfacing were tasked with carrying out all carriageway, footway and cycleway surfacing on the A41/Ploughley Road interchange.
- A challenging deadline dictated a tight program that meant liaison with our client, third party subcontractors and our dedicated supply chain was paramount.

Our success:

- A collaborative approach between MacDonald Surfacing, Galliford Try, Oxford County Council and their residents, the interchange improvements were completed on time by a dedicated project team working day and night.
- The completion of the junction improvement work ensured that traffic would flow more clearly through this busy part of Bicester, reducing journey time and improving the local economy.
- Safer provisions were made for pedestrians and cyclists to encourage more environmentally friendly and active modes of transport.
- All of the project team returned home safe after each shift.
- Work completed on program and on budget.
- All material sourced from local suppliers.

'I want to take the opportunity to thank you all for the collaborative working and dedication on the Ploughley Road / A41 project leading to its success & opening on time. We have all worked really hard on this project day and night to get this over the line and open for traffic by the 17th March so massive thank you to you all and your teams for maintaining the integrity of our commitment to Oxfordshire County Council and its residents.'

Guy Miller – Project Manager,
Galliford Try

